Monroe Salisbury Praises the

DIRECT'S WONDERFUL RECORD

List of the Horses Entered for the July
Races—Preparations at the Kent
County Tracks.

Monroe Salisbury, the great California horseman, arrived here from Pleasanton Sunday. In conversation with a reporter for THE HERALD, he said yesterday: "You people up here must give us different weather than this if you expect us to break any records on your track. It was good yesterday, but today it is very heavy. That is an excellent course. There isn't a better track in the country than this Comstock park. The ground is naturally wet enough so the water comes up and keeps the track elastic and spongy. I expect to see some great work on it this season."

I am going to Kentucky tonight after some more horses. Direct will be here sometime this week. He's a great horseman, and Mr. Salisbury smiled affectionately as he thought of the speedy little pacer.

"Do you expect to see him break his record this year?" asked the reporter. "Well, my boy," he exclaimed, "Mr. Salisbury in protesting against you must remember that he is tolerably fast going. Still, right here between us, I expect to see the little horse break his record before the season is over, and as he may do it right here. Just think, he has the fastest record for three consecutive heats on one horse. He made his record of 2:06 after going a mile in 2:07, and would have lowered that if the driver hadn't made a slight mistake in bringing him home."

"There's Monty," he's another wonder. Last year he won every race he entered to do with. He broke his record every time he was driven to do it. In fact, he never failed to do just what his driver tried to have him do. They talk about Aron's great record, but look how he did it. He has made one fast mile and that's all he ever did, but Monty gets there all the time. If he had come to California a month earlier last fall, he would have a lower record than he has now."

"Will Hal Pointer prove a match for Direct, do you think?" asked the interviewer.

"Well, of course Direct has a record several seconds lower than Hal Pointer, and a second means a great deal in a horse race, but when those two pacers meet you may be sure that it will be a horse race all the way around the track."

BARDEE IS HERE.
The Famous English Jockey Arrived With His Horses Yesterday.

Three carloads of horses arrived at the Kent county track Sunday night and one carload yesterday morning. Nine more carloads are expected today. Bardee, the great English jockey, came yesterday with his string. He is one of the oldest and best known riders in the world. Will DeLong, Corrigan's famous jockey, came yesterday.

The track is in good condition in spite of the wet weather, and the jockeys are all very enthusiastic over it. Instead of a track they expected to find an elliptical trail out in the woods and only part of the underbrush removed. Contrary to their expectations they found one of the best running courses ever ploughed by the boots of a sprinter, and their delight is plainly expressed. All the horses are in training and the first race will begin at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, when Pettengill will wave his little green flag and the first seven furlong race will be run.

Peter Picked the Winner.
Peter Doran returned from Chicago yesterday, having remained over to take in the great Derby on Saturday. The race proved of material interest to him, he fortunately picked the winner, Carlsbad.

Local Horse Notes.
It is definitely announced that John Spas will bring his string here for the July trotting meeting. It is one of the finest stables in the country.

Don J. Leathers returned from a week's trip to his Kentucky stock farm yesterday.

Vulcan is a Fire Extinguisher.
Vulcan is a chemical compound, the invention of Max Eberhardt, of Lorraine, and is stated to be nine times more effective than ordinary water in extinguishing fire, and among its other qualities possesses the remarkable faculty of rendering individuals virtually fireproof.

The impurity with which the exhibitors approached great masses of flame, and appeared to be almost as if in their native element, was not the least remarkable feature of a display. With the hands dipped in this solution burning materials may be manipulated with perfect safety. The first experiment was supposed to represent the upsetting of a paraffine lamp, the oil flowing in a stream over the tablecloth and immediately blazing up in a furious flame. By simply passing the hands over the burning cloth the flame was speedily extinguished, although the table itself had caught fire, and the exhibitor appeared to be in no little danger.

In the next scene a mass of sticks in a small pit was ignited and allowed to get thoroughly alight, the smoke and flames rising up in volumes. The application of two buckets of vulcan had an almost magical effect, the flames dying down at once, while not only the fire but even the heat arising therefrom entirely disappeared. The same result followed in the case of a mass of burning rosin, which, blazing up furiously, was instantaneously extinguished by a bucketful of the vulcan.—New York Telegram.

A Delicious Fish in the East.
"One of the queerest fishes in the world is the gourami," said an ichthyologist. "It is native to the fresh waters of Cochinchina, Farther India, Java, Sumatra and Borneo. Specimens have been known to attain a length of six feet and a weight of 110 pounds. The fish is so delicious that efforts have been made to acclimatize the creature in many other countries, but thus far these attempts have been successful only on the island of Mauritius."

About thirty of them were imported into the island of Cuba and planted in ponds some years ago, but, although they grew and were healthy, they did not breed. Accordingly, after awhile the prospects of propagating the species became so hopeless that the governor had them served up one upon his table upon state occasions. The same difficulty has been met with elsewhere.—Washington Star.

A Big Owl.
F. A. Morton, who lives a mile or so south of town, caught a horned owl in a steel trap one night that was a giant of its species, measuring 4 feet 8 inches from tip to tip of the wings. This nocturnal prowler had been making requisitions on his duck pen, so he set two steel traps for his owlship and succeeded in capturing him. The trap was tied with fifteen feet of rope, and in his desperate attempts to fly away with it the owl had knocked several rails off the fence. Mr. Morton says it was the biggest bird of the kind he ever saw and he believed it could have carried off a pig or lamb.—Farmington (Mo.) Times.

Creations That Lay Eggs.
Some silkworms lay from 1,000 to 2,000 eggs, the wasp 8,000, the ant from 3,000 to 5,000. The number of eggs laid by the queen bee has long been in dispute. Burmeister says from 5,000 to 6,000, but Spence and Kirby both go him several better, each declaring that the queen of average fertility will lay not less than 40,000 and probably as high as 50,000 in one season.—St. Louis Republic.

Queer Birds.
A flock of about twenty strange looking fowls, flying just above the house tops, passed over town Tuesday forenoon. They came from the west and pursued a bee line east. The fowls were about the size of ducks and were trim built, with long, pointed wings; breasts were white and wings were gray colored. Guess they were "Mother Carey's chickens."—Weston (Mo.) Journal.

Marriage in Portugal and Hungary.
Taking Europe, marriage appears the least popular in Portugal, where, in every 1,000 inhabitants, 510 are married, 628 are single and 62 are widowed. In Hungary marriage would appear to be more popular than in any other country. Out of every 1,000 of the population 407 are married, 533 are single and 61 are widowed.—Philadelphia Times.

Something Of.
Magistrate—You've stolen no less than twenty-five umbrellas! Six months' hard labor.

Prisoner (aggrievedly)—Six months! That's too much, your honor. I think you ought to make a reduction for me taking a quantity!—The Bits.

A WOMAN'S WATCH.

Though Og or Methusalem I outlive,
Or both combined,
I never again my trust will put
In womankind.

I sat on the porch of the gay hotel,
Beside the main,
Awaiting the time when I must take
My homeward train.

In front of me sat a maiden fair,
And at her waist,
Attached to her belt, a wee little watch
Wee little placed.

And I looked at that watch and I said
"Hol Hol"
Much time have I!
Small heed I gave to the moments swift
As they went by.

And finally when the hour had come
My train to take,
I started to go, and I had that day
Great things at stake.

But was to meet to the town that day
I did not go;
For the beautiful watch of the maiden fair
Was two hours slow.

—Boston Courier.

Search for an Ideal.
Carruthers—How does it happen that you and Miss Pruyn are out?

Waite—Well, I told her that I had long been seeking my ideal woman and had found her at last.

Carruthers—Didn't that please her?

Waite—I don't know. She said she had been just as long looking for her ideal man, but hadn't found him yet.—New York Herald.

If this is their advertisement, and we think it is, we wish to congratulate the principal physicians among the Alopaths for their success as advertising physicians, and we feel sorrow for the common herd of Alopathic physicians who do not DARE to advertise. What does this meeting amount to, anyway? Is it anything more than a mutual admiration society and a free advertising scheme for its members? Will the rest of the Alopathic physicians call them "quacks" after this? We hope not, as the members of the American Medical Association have as much right to advertise as Dr. S. CLAY TODD, and we wish to congratulate them on their success as Advertising Physicians.

In the Detroit Free Press June 7, sixth page, under the head of "Distinguished Doctors," we see the names of the members of The American (Alopathic) Medical Association, who are meeting in that city, and the specialties in which they are engaged, and also the pictures of 28 of those who can afford it.
